

Whitney Humanities Center
Yale University
53 Wall Street

Friday
February 28, 2014

Tim Dean
Crystal Feimster
Katherine Franke
Chandan Reddy
Margot Weiss

power // sex

consent constraint context

Is sex impracticable without power? Is power a pollutant to sex or a necessary condition of possibility for sex? Is power the engine or enervation of the erotic? power/sex brings together scholars who are thinking, researching and writing about sex as overdetermined, violent, fun, extraordinary, ordinary, politicized, and neoliberalized.

For more information and to register:
wgss.yale.edu/powersex

LGBT Studies
Whitney Humanities Center
James C. Mandelbaum Resource Fund
Global Health Justice Partnership
Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Program for the Study of Reproductive Justice
Traphagen Alumni Speakers Series, Yale College Office of Student Affairs

